

THE LUCK FINANCIAL GROUP

We are half way through summer and hopefully also over the pandemic hump as well. The stock market and real estate market are at all-time highs predicting a full economic recovery while lower yields in the bond market are telling us maybe the recovery and a return to normal is “on pause” for now. We are watching these and many other developments closely and welcome any inquiries to discuss further.

Live from the UK! My next Wealth Tracks podcast guest is Dr Pippa Malmgren. This episode is part of the disruptors series, topics that relate to new trends or technologies that will change our lives in the future. Dr. Malmgren is one of the top 25 Most Influential Economists in the World and one of the top 10 global experts on Geopolitics. She was also ranked in the top 5 Most Powerful Women in Finance. She is an economist and an award-winning author who served President GW Bush in the White House on The National Economic Council where she was the point person on Enron and Terrorism Risks to the Economy after 911. She also advised the UK Government on Brexit.

Dr. Malmgren is focused on innovation across the board and keenly explains how new technologies can solve old problems and generate new forms of growth. Her ability to explain complex topics in plain English is what got her the job in the White House and I can't think of a better person to help us understand what is going on in the world today. I am sure you will enjoy listening as much as I enjoyed our discussion. Stay tuned for this episode which will be available later this month.
